

FLOOD, FIRE & FAMINE: FORUM ON BUILDING RESILIENCE TO GLOBAL CLIMATE CHANGE IN THE BOUNDARY

Thursday, 26 September 2013 from 6:30 PM to 9:30 PM

Christina Lake Community Hall, 90 Park Road

The climate is changing. Warmer temperatures, rising oceans, and shrinking glaciers are on the top of people's minds, but how will climate change affect our communities in the Boundary, and what can we do to adapt?

Agenda:

- 6:30 – Welcome (Grace McGregor)
- 6:35- 7:30 – Dinner featuring food from local farms and producers
- 6:45-7:15 – Keynote Presentation: What is climate change and how will it affect life in southern BC? (Greg Utzig, Conservation Ecologist & Soil Scientist)
- 7:15-7:55 – Four lenses for climate change resilience in the Boundary: Food systems, water resources, ecosystems and economics (Roly Russell, Graham Watt, Ryan Durand, and Sandy Mark)
- 7:55-8:10 – Questions for panel
- 8:10-9:00 – Group discussion (opportunities and challenges in moving towards resilience)
- 9:00-9:30 – Highlights and moving forward (Graham Watt to facilitate)
- 9:30 – Closing (Grace McGregor)
